Fees For Electronic Recycling

Why a fee? It cost to recycle these items. The Vermillion Solid Waste Department must pay a recycler to process and recycle the electronics safely. The hazardous materials such as lead and mercury are removed, glass and the variety of plastics separated and each material is sent back into the manufacturing loop. The Solid Waste system takes every effort to make sure the materials are recycled in the US. In some case portions or elements of the electronics may be recycled in Europe.
