Subject: Land acknowledgement examples

Hi James,

Here are the two examples for HRC to consider on Thursday.

Thank you,
Shannon

South Dakota Humanities Council statement:

"We would like to acknowledge, first and foremost, that we stand on ground which is Lakota homeland. We honor and appreciate the indigenous people who have the longest relationship to this place."

University of Illinois System statement:

"These lands were the traditional birthright of indigenous peoples who were forcibly removed and who have faced two centuries of struggle for survival and identity in the wake of dispossession. We hereby acknowledge the ground on which we stand so that all who come here know that we recognize our responsibilities to the peoples of that land and that we strive to address that history so that it guides our work in the present and the future."

Full disclosure, the U of I statement has also been criticized for merely acknowledging such universities sit on Native American land, but not acknowledging they "began their ascendance to prominence with money raised from the rental or sale of Native American lands."
